

What is Express Me?

Discover what Express Me is, which features the app and the communication portal offer, and how to get started.

Express Me is a communication aid for people who can no longer speak naturally. With a personal app you build sentences from tiles, and the communication portal lets you manage everything in one place.

The app

The app is the heart of Express Me. You compose your own communication board from tiles: words, sentences, categories and stories.

Your own voice: choose the voice and speed used to speak the tiles.

Your own images: use your own photos or choose from the library.

Your own way of communicating: build sentences, tell stories and use ready-made categories.

Your own structure: decide the layout, size and position of every tile.

Want to learn step by step how to add tiles? Read the app guides.

The communication portal

The communication portal is where you manage everything around the app:

Multiple client profiles in one place, each with its own configuration.

Prepare and edit tiles, and see them straight away in the app.

Manage users, roles and organisations.

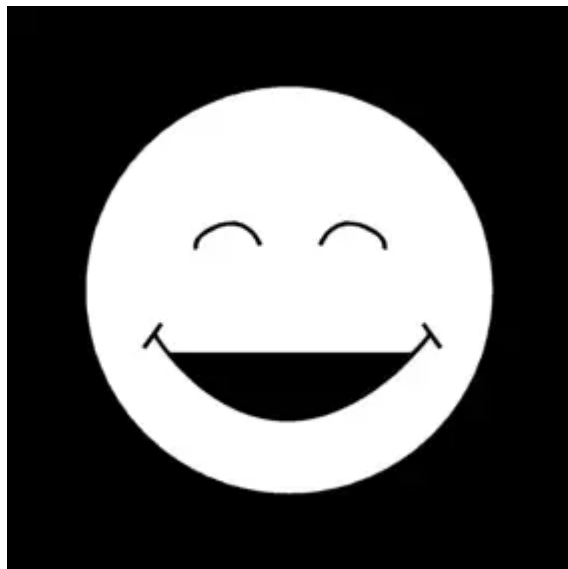

Works on all your devices

Express Me works on iPad & iPhone, Android (Samsung, Google, Motorola and more) and Chromebook.

Search 30,000+ tiles in the library

The library contains pictograms from Sclera and Mulberry, as well as realistic, recognisable images, so there is always a tile that fits.

Happy

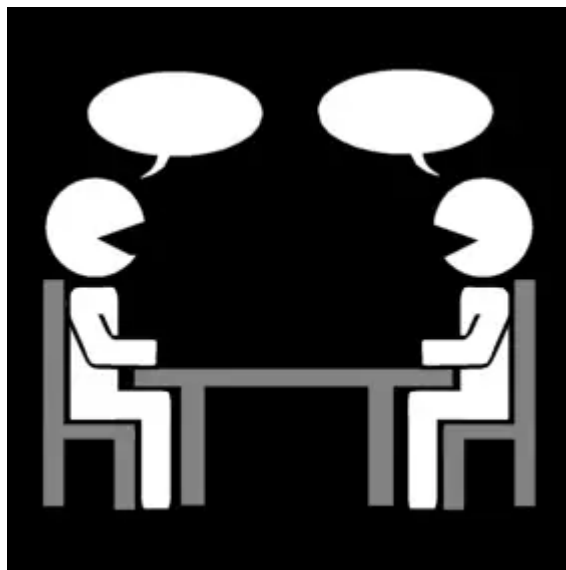

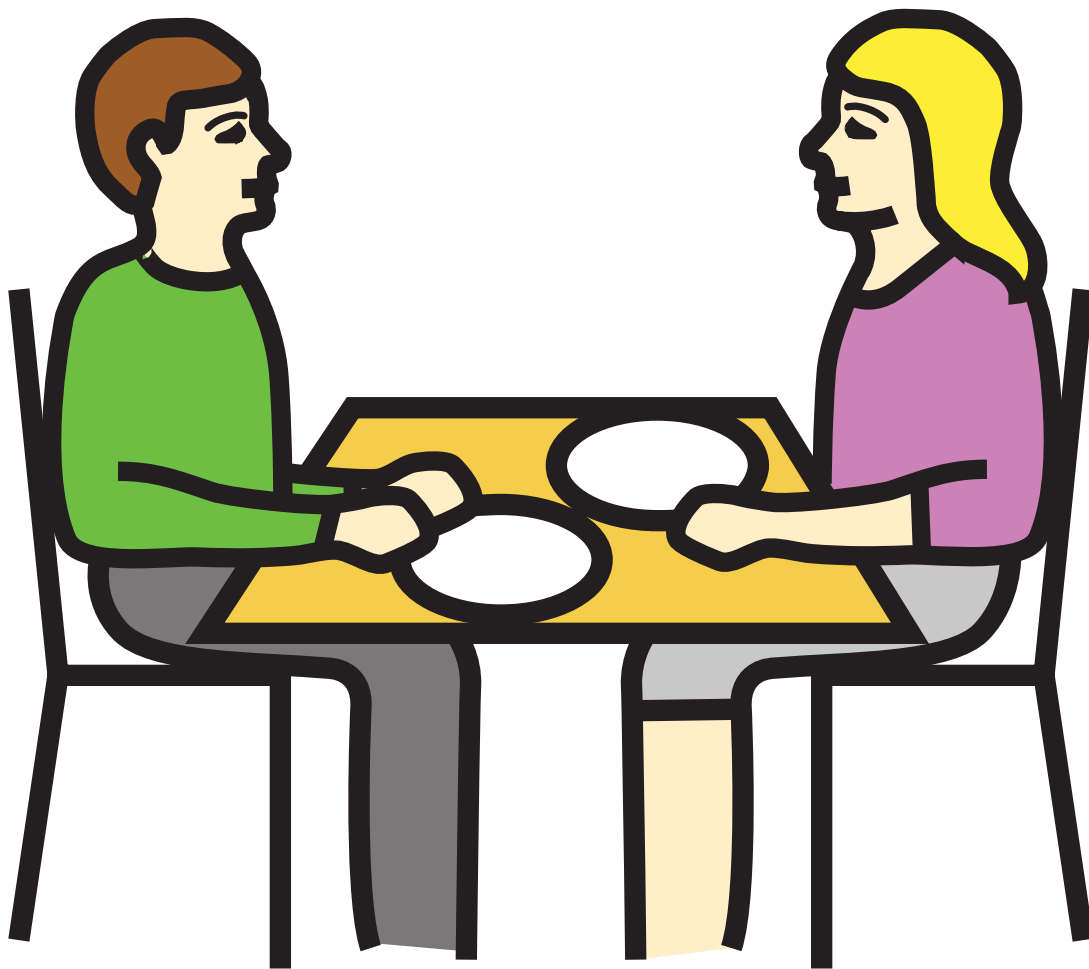

Coffee

Talking

Try it for free

You can try Express Me free for 90 days, with no payment details. See pricing and subscriptions for more information.